SUSEES outline

SUSEES is a Summer School in European Education Studies held at the Department of Social Sciences of the University Federico II and open to 20 emerging researchers from the host institution and all across Europe who intend to consolidate their expertise in studying education policies, practices and outcomes assuming the European dimension as the privileged point of observation.

SUSEES promotes innovation in teaching and research, fostering the adoption of a EU-angle in the field of educational research, and acts as a laboratory for emergent researchers to develop interdisciplinary thinking and research about the process of Europeanisation in and through education.

Participants will be involved in a 5 days and 40 hours module where every year, and for three editions, renowned scholars from the field of educational research will be asked to present and discuss specific theories and related methodological developments and demonstrate how these are used in their own work on Europeanisation. The resulting dialogic and dynamic environment will provide participants with new insights on the potentials of the theoretical and methodological resources in producing new research questions on Europeanisation of education.

The 2017 edition of SUSEES will be held at the Department of Social Sciences - University of Naples Federico II from 3rd to 7th July 2017.

How to apply

Who can apply

Emerging researchers (PhD students and/or holders) interested in developing their expertise in the study of education in Europe.

How to apply

Send your CV, a letter describing your current main research project, and your motivation in participating to SUSEES to the following email address: socedu28@gmail.com by 31st March 2017.

SUSEES committee will select candidates and confirm acceptance by 15th April 2017. Registration is due by 15th May 2017. SUSEES's activities will be held in English.

Travel and accommodation

Participants will cover their own travel costs. Accommodation from 3rd to 7th July 2017 and lunches will be covered by the University of Naples Federico II and EERA.

How SUSEES works

A multidisciplinary staff and a plural design strategy

An intensive and dialogic learning environment with a strong commitment to innovation

Every year, renowned scholars will be asked to give lectures, presenting the way they use particular theories and approaches. The scope of the lectures will be to provide participants with new insights on the potentials of those theoretical resources in producing new research questions in studying the European dimension of education.

In order to make the lectures interactive, scholars will provide in advance a syllabus via the SUSSES website in order to enable participants to become familiar with the approach they propose.

The lectures will be followed by work sessions:

a) a laboratory for research imagination on European education where participants will be divided in three groups, and asked to elaborate with the help of three tutors from the teaching staff on the approaches presented in the lectures by producing a conceptual map that link theoretical resources with research questions;

b) a feedback session with the lecturers, the academic coordinator and two members of the key staff as discussants.

Participants will also benefit from a capacity-building seminar on 'academic writing', and from the continuous support of experienced mentors.
